On 2 June, the Zawiyyan Security Directorate dismissed the militia commander, Muhammed Bahrour (also known as 'al-Far', the 'Mouse') from his role as the head of the Zawiyyan Criminal Investigations Directorate (CID) and assigned Ashraf Misbah Duraid to the position. This coincides with reports that the head of the Libyan Intelligence Service (LIS), Hussein al-Ayeb, has assigned Bahrour to lead the General Intelligence Office for the Western Region operating from Sabratha, with a specific focus on counter-terrorism (CT).

Militias vie for control of External Security Agency building in Tripoli
